LENOX

Lenox is a renowned manufacturer of cutting tools, including bandsaw blades. They offer a wide variety of bandsaw blades that cater to different applications and materials, ensuring high-quality and precise cutting performance.

Lenox bandsaw blades are known for their durability, longevity, and superior cutting abilities. Some of the key features of their bandsaw blades may include:

- 1. Different Tooth Configurations: Lenox provides bandsaw blades with various tooth configurations, such as regular tooth, skip tooth, hook tooth, and more, to optimize cutting performance for different materials.
- 2. Bi-Metal Construction: Many Lenox bandsaw blades are made with a bi-metal construction, combining high-speed steel teeth with a flexible alloy steel back, ensuring both hardness and flexibility.
- 3. Versatility: Lenox offers bandsaw blades suitable for cutting a wide range of materials, including metal, wood, plastic, and other materials commonly used in various industries.
- 4. Welded or Continuous Loop: Bandsaw blades from Lenox come in both welded loops and continuous loops, providing options for different types of bandsaw machines.
- 5. Customization: Lenox can provide customized bandsaw blades to suit specific cutting needs and application.
